

CDC names Torrey Pines Bank top community lender

Wednesday, December 10, 2008

Torrey Pines Bank, a local commercial bank and a subsidiary of Western Alliance Bancorporation, has been honored for the fourth year in a row as the top community lender for SBA lending in San Diego County by CDC Small Business Finance, a not-for-profit organization dedicated to stimulating economic development by serving the financing needs of small businesses in California, Arizona and Nevada.

The CDC partners with private lending institutions and has provided more than $5 billion in SBA-504 loans and other funding, resulting in more than 100,000 jobs in 30 years. From Oct. 1, 2007 through Sept. 30, 2008, Torrey Pines Bank worked with the CDC to approve 18 loans with a total project volume of $29 million and a total first trust deed volume of $14.6 million.
